

BARONDESS ON DECK.

"King of the Cloakmakers"
Comes on to Direct the Strike.

His Subjects Generally May Join
Striking Cloakmakers.

500 of Them Quit Work in Broadway
Shops To-Day.

The striking sweat-shop cloakmakers were in a quiescent mood this morning. They had measured their strength at the mass-meeting in Cooper Union last night, and were satisfied that victory was within their grasp. Their army, which is numbered by tens of thousands, stands together a compact mass, determined to win. Not one dissenting voice has been heard among them since the strike began in the early part of this week. The task system, which had snatched their life so long, and which they had been fighting for the past week, a new element of strength and success has been added to the strikers' movement by the arrival of Joseph Baronde, of Baltimore. He is a born leader of strikes, and like the Alexanders and Casars and Capone of history he has an enthusiasm which his presence among them arouses. He is booked to address the strikers at a mass-meeting this afternoon at New Irving Hall. He will also speak at meetings in Brooklyn and Brownsville.

The striking cloakmakers, to whose Union Baronde properly belongs, declare that now their old leader is once more among them, there is no doubt that a general strike of their trade will also be inaugurated within a few days.

So far there are about 2,000 cloakmakers on strike. That number was reached by 500 men quitting work yesterday at Popkin & Marks's shop on Broadway, near Grand street, and A. Friedlander & Co.'s, Broadway, near West street.

The cloakmakers and the coatmakers are not striking to attain the same objects. The former are in thoroughly ventilated, roomy, well-lighted shops. All they ask for is more money. The latter, on the other hand, have been working in dingy, foul-smelling dens, where the heat is made by means of a single stove, and the view of the sun or even the sky is denied them. They are crowded into these hovels of disease, and are often fifty, one hundred or even one hundred and fifty men, toiling from 6 o'clock in the morning until 10 o'clock at night. Their pay for all this work rarely went above $4 a week. They were recently told that a "tack" and a "clack" required three days' work, and as a "clack" required three days' work, they were really earning only $1 a day.

It is this system that the coatmakers have struck against. The strikers, those who make coats, and the great manufacturers, have agreed to accept the terms submitted by the strikers. This is regarded as suspicious by the strikers, as they claim to have been deceived by the contractors in the past.

The contractors hold a mass-meeting this afternoon at 10 o'clock, and they shall yield on this point. The Knights of Labor task-workers in the coat trade are comparatively few, but they are backed up by the union of the kindred workers of the U. S. in this city, Brooklyn and Brownsville, who also hold a mass-meeting this afternoon at 10 o'clock, and then went into Committee of the Whole.

Mr. McClure, Chairman of the Forest Preservation Committee, continued his speech last night, in explanation and support of the new forestry section. He said that the State Institution and State interest was protected and looked after and was a matter of pride to the State; and now the vast forest preserve, comprising in the Adirondacks 3,585,500 acres, and in the Catskills 2,000,000 acres, should be protected from the invading lumbermen and the devastating fires, which inevitably follow them. The forests have commercial value. The State has a right to keep them for the benefit of the people, and the larger craft have difficulty in getting the lumber out of the State. New York City would soon extend north to include Yonkers. The Croton supply is limited now to such an extent that the State's anxiety. The people would have to go to the forests for their water. All of the lumbermen, who are the original owners of the land, Mr. McClure, which forbids the exchange or sale of any land, and the bill is being introduced. The measure prevents leases of land to the State.

The Niagara River amendment was an amendment to the bill that protected the project of the Niagara River, which was limited to thirty minutes, and the bill was introduced with the bill.

As it stands now, waiting for third reading, it forbids further grants of riparian rights, and does not recognize existing corporations' rights.

How to Rent Rooms.
Monday being another "World's House and Home Day" all of the Houses, Rooms and Apartments in "The Sunday World" are repeated free of charge. The Evening World, which is a daily paper, has a similar feature in "The Sunday World," fourteen words for 3 cents.

$1,000 Found in a Log.
BIRKLEY, Ill., Sept. 8.—A mule skin, Ash Grove, was found dead in a log. A mule skin was found dead in a log. A mule skin was found dead in a log.

Policeman Wilson Dead.
Policeman William F. Wilson, of the 10th street station, died at 10 o'clock this morning at home of 31 James street, of consumption. He was 40 years of age, married, and had been in the police force since 1881.

The Testimonials
Published in honor of Hood's Sarsaparilla are not put in, but are written up in our office, and are sent to our employees. They are taken from truthful people, and are given as anything can be proved by direct, personal evidence, and that.

Hood's Sarsaparilla
Be Sure to get Hood's Cures
HOOD'S PILLS cure nausea, sick headache, indigestion, biliousness. Sold by all druggists.

STRIKERS ATTACK A WOMAN.

Mrs. Lehotoff Knocked Senseless with a Shower of Stones.

Rachael Lehotoff, of 37 Moore street, Williamsburg, was the victim of the fallow "Dutrow" who refused to go out on strike, and suffering from a severe scalp wound at her home. At 1:30 last night, while walking alone down Moore street near Moore, a knot of men on the corner commenced to pelt her. Kill the scalp! Kill the scalp! they finally cried. A shower of stones were directed at the poor woman. She fell unconscious to the sidewalk, and the crowd rushed towards her.

LABOR TROUBLE SPREADS.

Eleven Chicago Firms Affected by Strike or Lock-Out.

CHICAGO, Sept. 8.—A part of the employees of five additional firms reported at the headquarters of Cornice Workers' Union, which is the headquarters of the strike, and other men employed by two other firms were ordered to leave their work. The strike is spreading. This makes a total of eleven firms now involved in the trouble, either through the strike or through the lock-out. The business agents of the Building Trades Union, which is the headquarters of the strike, would support the cornice-makers, and that no member of their organizations would work for any of the firms. In consequence it is believed that the trouble will spread to the construction industry during the next few days.

MAY SELL THE FRANCHISE.

The Staten Island Ferry Injunction Not to Be Continued.

Judge Blough, in the Court of Common Pleas today, denied the motion to continue the injunction to restrain the ferry from selling the Staten Island Ferry franchise. Judge Blough decides every point in favor of the city. The suit was brought by a taxpayer in the interest of John Starin, who was a bidder for the ferry franchise against the Staten Island Rapid Transit Company, the present licensee. Mr. Starin, through the plaintiff taxpayer, claimed that the city had no right to insert in the lease a clause providing that the leasee, if other than the Staten Island Rapid Transit Company, would have to indemnify the city for any loss or damage to the ferry franchise. Judge Blough holds to the contrary.

The question at issue is whether or not the city has the right to insert in the lease a clause compelling the leasee to pay $500 a year for the use of the ferry franchise. The court held that the city has the right to insert in the lease a clause compelling the leasee to pay $500 a year for the use of the ferry franchise.

PLEA FOR STATE FORESTS.

They Should Be Protected by a Constitutional Amendment.

ALBANY, Sept. 8.—On motion of Mr. McClure, the Constitutional Convention this morning discussed the plea for the State forests, and then went into Committee of the Whole.

Mr. McClure, Chairman of the Forest Preservation Committee, continued his speech last night, in explanation and support of the new forestry section. He said that the State Institution and State interest was protected and looked after and was a matter of pride to the State; and now the vast forest preserve, comprising in the Adirondacks 3,585,500 acres, and in the Catskills 2,000,000 acres, should be protected from the invading lumbermen and the devastating fires, which inevitably follow them. The forests have commercial value. The State has a right to keep them for the benefit of the people, and the larger craft have difficulty in getting the lumber out of the State. New York City would soon extend north to include Yonkers. The Croton supply is limited now to such an extent that the State's anxiety. The people would have to go to the forests for their water. All of the lumbermen, who are the original owners of the land, Mr. McClure, which forbids the exchange or sale of any land, and the bill is being introduced. The measure prevents leases of land to the State.

The Niagara River amendment was an amendment to the bill that protected the project of the Niagara River, which was limited to thirty minutes, and the bill was introduced with the bill.

As it stands now, waiting for third reading, it forbids further grants of riparian rights, and does not recognize existing corporations' rights.

How to Rent Rooms.
Monday being another "World's House and Home Day" all of the Houses, Rooms and Apartments in "The Sunday World" are repeated free of charge. The Evening World, which is a daily paper, has a similar feature in "The Sunday World," fourteen words for 3 cents.

$1,000 Found in a Log.
BIRKLEY, Ill., Sept. 8.—A mule skin, Ash Grove, was found dead in a log. A mule skin was found dead in a log. A mule skin was found dead in a log.

Policeman Wilson Dead.
Policeman William F. Wilson, of the 10th street station, died at 10 o'clock this morning at home of 31 James street, of consumption. He was 40 years of age, married, and had been in the police force since 1881.

The Testimonials
Published in honor of Hood's Sarsaparilla are not put in, but are written up in our office, and are sent to our employees. They are taken from truthful people, and are given as anything can be proved by direct, personal evidence, and that.

Hood's Sarsaparilla
Be Sure to get Hood's Cures
HOOD'S PILLS cure nausea, sick headache, indigestion, biliousness. Sold by all druggists.

CABLE AND HORSE-CAR CRASH.

Men and Women Thrown Into a Confused Mass.

Careless Gripman of the Third Avenue Road Caused It.

Two street railroad cars were in collision at 9 o'clock this morning at the intersection of the Bowery and Houston street, and the passengers were panic-stricken for a time. A crowd of people, packed with people, had come to a halt to allow a Third Avenue cable car, bound south, to pass. Another cable car came bowling along on the Bowery, the gripman, no doubt, feeling assured that the downtown car would have passed and the eastbound car moving along the Bowery could reach the spot. He made no effort, so far as was apparent, to check the car's speed until he realized, when only a few feet away, that a collision was inevitable.

STRAND OF THE CABLE BROKE

Long Delay of Travel on the Third Avenue Road.

Shortly after 11 o'clock this morning a strand of the Third Avenue cable broke, causing a long delay. At 9 o'clock the break had not been fully repaired.

The loose strand was first detected in the power-house, according to one of the cable inspectors. The cable was stopped at once, and the work of repairing the track began. When that defect was remedied it was found that the cable had slipped from some of the many revolving wheels at the Post-Office car, in such a fashion as to prevent the grip taking hold of it.

It is fortunate that the broken strand was discovered so promptly, as had its repair been delayed, the serious injury might have been caused. The cable, which was in the cable of a Broadway car and carried it, with everything before it, the cable would have been a serious danger to the lives of the passengers. The cable, however, the only injury resulted in loss of time and temper on the part of cable passengers.

FIRES ON STATEN ISLAND.

A Dwelling Burned and a Lumber Yard Damaged.

Two fires broke out this morning shortly after midnight on Staten Island. At West New Brighton the lumber yard of James W. Thompson was partially destroyed, a lot of dressed lumber and mill moldings going up in flames.

The other fire was at Richmond. It started at 12:30 o'clock this morning in a small frame house used as a photograph gallery by John Lake. The building, which is a total loss, was valued at about $1,000. There was no insurance on the building or its contents.

DIED IN A HOSPITAL.

Two Cases for the Coroner at the Chambers Street Institution.

The Coroner's office was notified today to hold inquest in two cases at the Chambers Street Hospital. One was that of Andrew Philp, sixty-four years old, a machinist, who died from injuries to his foot and ankle. The other was that of John J. P. who was found in the room of the hotel. He had been watched ever since, but he had been found in the room of the hotel. He had been watched ever since, but he had been found in the room of the hotel.

Lost to Halifax for His Bride.

John Munro, son of George Munro, the publisher of 23 Vandewater street, was married to Miss Mary Forrest, of Halifax, N. S., last night. The bride was taken to the hotel by a carriage. The groom was taken to the hotel by a carriage. The groom was taken to the hotel by a carriage.

Fell Off the Roof and May Die.

Lorenz Bosta, of 413 Central avenue, Jersey City, could not sleep in his room last night. He fell off the roof of his room, and was taken to the hospital. He is now in the hospital, and is expected to die.

Lost His Foot and His Life.

Andrew Philp, sixty-four years old, a machinist, who died from injuries to his foot and ankle. The other was that of John J. P. who was found in the room of the hotel. He had been watched ever since, but he had been found in the room of the hotel.

BOOKS FOR WINTER EVENINGS

Jeannette Gilder Prepares a List of the Latest Novels.

Miss Jeannette Gilder will tell readers of the "Sunday World" what books are ready for them. She has prepared a list of the latest novels.

Two Little Girls Accuse Him.
LONG ISLAND CITY, Sept. 8.—William Mack, an Andover student, was charged before Justice today with criminally assaulting Louise and Rose Higgins, aged four and six years respectively. It is alleged that he took the girls to his room and committed the crime.

Boy Begged for His Sister.

Joseph Wilman, eleven years old, of 31 Lewis street, was sent to the City House of Detention today for begging. He was found begging at the City House of Detention today for begging.

After Sixteen Days Balloting Nomination is Left to the People.

RENTIA, Sept. 8.—The thirteenth Congressional Democratic Convention, after having been in deadlock for sixteen days, adjourned sine die, and left the nomination to the people for a vote on Nov. 8.

TEXAS CONVENTION GIVES UP.

After Sixteen Days Balloting Nomination is Left to the People.

RENTIA, Sept. 8.—The thirteenth Congressional Democratic Convention, after having been in deadlock for sixteen days, adjourned sine die, and left the nomination to the people for a vote on Nov. 8.

FINKLESTEIN FLEES.

The Dashing Dentist is Defended in Several Suits.

His Wife Wants a Separation and $5,000 She Let Him Have.

How He Cleverly Escaped Arrest in a Montreal Hotel.

Word was received from Montreal this morning that Finklestein had fled to the city of Montreal, where he had been in hiding. He had been in hiding for several days, and had been in hiding for several days. He had been in hiding for several days, and had been in hiding for several days.

Wright Thinks Miss King Ungrateful to Keep His Ring.

The Court Decides He Must Sue to Recover It.

Eugene A. Wright, of 73 East Eighty-third street, New York, who sought to regain possession of a valuable diamond ring, which he says he gave to Violeta B. King, of East Fourth street and Windsor Terrace, Flatbush, to seal a marriage engagement, by having her summoned to court to answer a charge of larceny, has failed in his attempt, for the present at least.

Lively Spot in Court Between the Ex-Lovers.

This was decided by Justice Steers, in the Grant Street Police Court, Brooklyn, this morning. There was quite a lively scene while the hearing was going on.

The defendant is the widow of a man named Snedeker, and she now goes out for her maiden name. She is a tall, black-eyed woman, about forty years old, and is a good conversationalist.

She appeared in court this morning attired in a handsome costume of light brown material. She wore a wedding ring and another ring set with a glinting diamond.

When the case was called she stepped forward and announced that she was ready to proceed with the case. She was the first witness. He testified that he met Miss King at Wellman's matrimonial agency in New York.

"After we had talked for some time," he said, "she asked me to marry her. I was a steady man, and can support her. I was a steady man, and can support her. I was a steady man, and can support her."

"I took her to Manhattan Beach, and gave her everything she wanted. She was a steady woman, and I was a steady man. I was a steady man, and can support her. I was a steady man, and can support her."

"I don't want to marry her or any other woman. I don't want to marry her or any other woman. I don't want to marry her or any other woman. I don't want to marry her or any other woman."

"I don't care anything about the other woman. I don't care anything about the other woman. I don't care anything about the other woman. I don't care anything about the other woman."

"I don't care anything about the other woman. I don't care anything about the other woman. I don't care anything about the other woman. I don't care anything about the other woman."

"I don't care anything about the other woman. I don't care anything about the other woman. I don't care anything about the other woman. I don't care anything about the other woman."

"I don't care anything about the other woman. I don't care anything about the other woman. I don't care anything about the other woman. I don't care anything about the other woman."

"I don't care anything about the other woman. I don't care anything about the other woman. I don't care anything about the other woman. I don't care anything about the other woman."

"I don't care anything about the other woman. I don't care anything about the other woman. I don't care anything about the other woman. I don't care anything about the other woman."

"I don't care anything about the other woman. I don't care anything about the other woman. I don't care anything about the other woman. I don't care anything about the other woman."

"I don't care anything about the other woman. I don't care anything about the other woman. I don't care anything about the other woman. I don't care anything about the other woman."

"I don't care anything about the other woman. I don't care anything about the other woman. I don't care anything about the other woman. I don't care anything about the other woman."

"I don't care anything about the other woman. I don't care anything about the other woman. I don't care anything about the other woman. I don't care anything about the other woman."

"I don't care anything about the other woman. I don't care anything about the other woman. I don't care anything about the other woman. I don't care anything about the other woman."

"I don't care anything about the other woman. I don't care anything about the other woman. I don't care anything about the other woman. I don't care anything about the other woman."

"I don't care anything about the other woman. I don't care anything about the other woman. I don't care anything about the other woman. I don't care anything about the other woman."

"I don't care anything about the other woman. I don't care anything about the other woman. I don't care anything about the other woman. I don't care anything about the other woman."

"I don't care anything about the other woman. I don't care anything about the other woman. I don't care anything about the other woman. I don't care anything about the other woman."

"I don't care anything about the other woman. I don't care anything about the other woman. I don't care anything about the other woman. I don't care anything about the other woman."

"I don't care anything about the other woman. I don't care anything about the other woman. I don't care anything about the other woman. I don't care anything about the other woman."

"I don't care anything about the other woman. I don't care anything about the other woman. I don't care anything about the other woman. I don't care anything about the other woman."

"I don't care anything about the other woman. I don't care anything about the other woman. I don't care anything about the other woman. I don't care anything about the other woman."

"I don't care anything about the other woman. I don't care anything about the other woman. I don't care anything about the other woman. I don't care anything about the other woman."

"I don't care anything about the other woman. I don't care anything about the other woman. I don't care anything about the other woman. I don't care anything about the other woman."

"I don't care anything about the other woman. I don't care anything about the other woman. I don't care anything about the other woman. I don't care anything about the other woman."

TREATED HER "NICE."

Wright Thinks Miss King Ungrateful to Keep His Ring.

The Court Decides He Must Sue to Recover It.

Lively Spot in Court Between the Ex-Lovers.

This was decided by Justice Steers, in the Grant Street Police Court, Brooklyn, this morning. There was quite a lively scene while the hearing was going on.

The defendant is the widow of a man named Snedeker, and she now goes out for her maiden name. She is a tall, black-eyed woman, about forty years old, and is a good conversationalist.

She appeared in court this morning attired in a handsome costume of light brown material. She wore a wedding ring and another ring set with a glinting diamond.

When the case was called she stepped forward and announced that she was ready to proceed with the case. She was the first witness. He testified that he met Miss King at Wellman's matrimonial agency in New York.

"After we had talked for some time," he said, "she asked me to marry her. I was a steady man, and can support her. I was a steady man, and can support her. I was a steady man, and can support her."

"I took her to Manhattan Beach, and gave her everything she wanted. She was a steady woman, and I was a steady man. I was a steady man, and can support her. I was a steady man, and can support her."

"I don't want to marry her or any other woman. I don't want to marry her or any other woman. I don't want to marry her or any other woman. I don't want to marry her or any other woman."

"I don't care anything about the other woman. I don't care anything about the other woman. I don't care anything about the other woman. I don't care anything about the other woman."

"I don't care anything about the other woman. I don't care anything about the other woman. I don't care anything about the other woman. I don't care anything about the other woman."

"I don't care anything about the other woman. I don't care anything about the other woman. I don't care anything about the other woman. I don't care anything about the other woman."

"I don't care anything about the other woman. I don't care anything about the other woman. I don't care anything about the other woman. I don't care anything about the other woman."

"I don't care anything about the other woman. I don't care anything about the other woman. I don't care anything about the other woman. I don't care anything about the other woman."

"I don't care anything about the other woman. I don't care anything about the other woman. I don't care anything about the other woman. I don't care anything about the other woman."

"I don't care anything about the other woman. I don't care anything about the other woman. I don't care anything about the other woman. I don't care anything about the other woman."

"I don't care anything about the other woman. I don't care anything about the other woman. I don't care anything about the other woman. I don't care anything about the other woman."

"I don't care anything about the other woman. I don't care anything about the other woman. I don't care anything about the other woman. I don't care anything about the other woman."

"I don't care anything about the other woman. I don't care anything about the other woman. I don't care anything about the other woman. I don't care anything about the other woman."

"I don't care anything about the other woman. I don't care anything about the other woman. I don't care anything about the other woman. I don't care anything about the other woman."

"I don't care anything about the other woman. I don't care anything about the other woman. I don't care anything about the other woman. I don't care anything about the other woman."

"I don't care anything about the other woman. I don't care anything about the other woman. I don't care anything about the other woman. I don't care anything about the other woman."

"I don't care anything about the other woman. I don't care anything about the other woman. I don't care anything about the other woman. I don't care anything about the other woman."

"I don't care anything about the other woman. I don't care anything about the other woman. I don't care anything about the other woman. I don't care anything about the other woman."

"I don't care anything about the other woman. I don't care anything about the other woman. I don't care anything about the other woman. I don't care anything about the other woman."

"I don't care anything about the other woman. I don't care anything about the other woman. I don't care anything about the other woman. I don't care anything about the other woman."

"I don't care anything about the other woman. I don't care anything about the other woman. I don't care anything about the other woman. I don't care anything about the other woman."

"I don't care anything about the other woman. I don't care anything about the other woman. I don't care anything about the other woman. I don't care anything about the other woman."

"I don't care anything about the other woman. I don't care anything about the other woman. I don't care anything about the other woman. I don't care anything about the other woman."

"I don't care anything about the other woman. I don't care anything about the other woman. I don't care anything about the other woman. I don't care anything about the other woman."

"I don't care anything about the other woman. I don't care anything about the other woman. I don't care anything about the other woman. I don't care anything about the other woman."

"I don't care anything about the other woman. I don't care anything about the other woman. I don't care anything about the other woman. I don't care anything about the other woman."

"I don't care anything about the other woman. I don't care anything about the other woman. I don't care anything about the other woman. I don't care anything about the other woman."

"I don't care anything about the other woman. I don't care anything about the other woman. I don't care anything about the other woman. I don't care anything about the other woman."

"I don't care anything about the other woman. I don't care anything about the other woman. I don't care anything about the other woman. I don't care anything about the other woman."

"I don't care anything about the other woman. I don't care anything about the other woman. I don't care anything about the other woman. I don't care anything about the other woman."

COCKRAN NOW A SUPPLIANT.

Ex-Tammany Chiefstain Would Like to Be Renominated.

How Will Senator Hill Treat the Tariff Plank?

Congressman W. Bourke Cockran has returned from the Adirondacks, where he has spent six weeks with Mrs. Cockran, who has been very ill. The first thing Mr. Cockran did on reaching the city was to visit his old law partner, Corporation Counsel William H. Clark, with whom he had a two hours' conference.

The meeting of these two men was an instructive illustration of the ups and downs of Tammany. Two years ago W. Bourke Cockran was one of the "Big Four" in Tammany Hall. He was one of the political forces in the city, State and nation. He wrote the platform of his party in this State. Party principles and party policy were decided by his advice. When his eloquent voice was raised in behalf of Tammany, thousands flocked to hear him and joined in saying, "Great is Cockran."

No longer is he asked to meet by the council fire of the chieftains in the lodge by the borders of Fourteenth street. The great medicine men around him are not invited to hit it. The plume has been snatched from his bonnet.

Crocker left his hatred of Cockran as a legacy to Tammany Hall. How faithfully Crocker's wish is being carried out by his followers is shown by the fact that when he is seeking renomination for Congress, in his hour of need he comes to his more level-headed associate for assistance.